Re: Bryan Kohler

Dear Dr. Green:

I have examined the x-rays taken on this man which indicate a fracture of the right distal fibula with lateral displacement of the talus. Your postreduction films show an excellent position and reduction and subsequent films show that position has been maintained. It apparently has now been seven weeks since this injury.

Even though the last x-ray shows a little evidence of union, I would be of the opinion that there should be good clinical union at this time in a long oblique fracture of the fibula such as is present here. For this reason, I would not believe that further immobilization is necessary and that the usual measures for rehabilitation are indicated and should result in a good useful ankle.

Very sincerely,

Boyd G. Holbrook, M.D.
